John A. Lewis, vice president and cashler of the National Bank of Com merce in St. Louis appeared before Special Commissioner Henry A. Rosskopi today and for the first time gave the hank's version of its transactions with Samuel W. Van Dyne, former freight office cashier of the Missouri Pacific Railway Co.

Van Dyne is under indictment on charge of embezzling about $76,000 from the railway company. His trial is set for next Wednesday.

The taking of depositions is unusual in criminal cases. In this instance the hearing was asked for by Van Dyne's attorney, A. M. Frumberg, who said he wanted to bring out new evidence fo

Van Dyne, who had been freight of-fice cashier for the Missouri Pacific about 10 years, quit the company April 1 last. An audit of his books led to the discovery about a month later that his accounts were short $76,000. This shortage was represented by seven checks indorsed with the names "Ben Blair" and "A. L. Blair." The checks had been deposited by Van Dyne with the Na-tional Bank of Commerce to the account of the Missouri Pacific. They were drawn on a San Francisco bank, Sinking of Ship by Submarine Threatnes to Fall Into Technical Discussion.

QUESTION OF STATUS

Marina Carried Defense Gun; Germany and U. S. Have Disagreed on Such Armament.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 2.—So many conflicting elements have appeared in the destruction of the British ship Ma-rins by a German submarine, with the loss of American lives, that the incission rather than a clean-cut issue of whether Germany has violated her pledges to the United States.

It became quite apparent today, both from the attitude of the State Departabroad, that much which is essential to a determination of the responsibility remains undisclosed, if, indeed, the United States, Germany or Great Britain is in possession of the full facts, It appears certain .... t no move will be made by the United States until the version of the affair, as well as that of the destruction of the Britsh ship Rowanmore by shell fire, with endangering of Americans, have been obtained.

Statement by Lansing.
Secretary Lansing said today that the United States understood Germany's pledges not to sink merchantment without warning and without providing for the safety of passengers and crew ap-No distinction was drawn in the correspondence between armed and unarmed ships, and the State Department does not accept any contention that Germany's responsibility is limited to those without armament.

Nevertheless, it is admitted that Germany has always taken a distinct view of the status of armed ships, and it is thought probable that she will attempt to inject the point into the present cituation. So long as the policies of the two Governments are so utterly divergent, it is thought possible that Germany might use the Marina case to settle this issue. Her increased submarine warfare, combined with the increasing number of armed allied ships, and their increasing efficiency in defense, makes it a vital question to ner. Secretary Lansing, while refusing to give out any further details of the official report of the sinking from the American embassy in London, said his information was substantially the same as that of the newspapers.

Germany and Austria, on Feb. 10, in substantially the same terms, notifled the United States to the follow-

However, in accepting the American note on the Sussex, demanding the abandonment of its submarine warfare against passenger and freight carrying vessels, Germany said such vessels would not be sunk without warning and without providing for the safety of passengers and crew "unless the ships attempt to escape or offer resistance." No condition was made as to armed ships.

Toward President Wilson Is Lessening.

By KARL H. VON WIEGAND. Staff Correspondent of the Post Disputch and the New York World. (Copyright, 1916, by Press Pub. Co.) BERLIN, Oct. 31, via London, Nov. 2.

With the presidential election a week off, Germany is evineing an interest in free from political influences. American political affairs which, while perhaps no greater than that shown by France and England, is far keener than ever was manifested heretofore.

The newspapers for the last week have been publishing articles of an inormatory nature as to the character and methods of American elections, but they have printed comparatively news dispatches from the States.

Any indifference shown regarding the outcome of the election probably is caused by the realization in circles informed as to political conditions in America, that little change in the attitude of the United States is to be expected. While the general impression is that Mr. Wilson is partial to England and wants to see Germany northeast corner, in our hands since crushed, there have been indications in Sept. 28. From it, trenches called Stuff the last few days of a blunting of the former sharp resentment towards the In Doubt as to Hughes

Extracts from the speeches of Hughes and Roosevelt have given rise to the question of whether Hughes' attitude towards Germany might not be even nore intensive.

That, after all, Wilson has been more bent upon maintaining peace with Germany, and that his zeal was not for matter of retaining the former German war, is also beginning to sink through, and more than once lately I have heard the remark:
"While it can make little difference to Germany who is President of the United States, it is perhaps just as much to our interest, so far as Amer-ica's attitude towards us is concerned, that Wilson be President as that Hughes be elected. We know what we can expect from Wilson and we can-not tell what Hughes may or may not Reventlow Against Wilson, On the other hand, in a long editorial, Count Reventlow endeavors to show that "America's differences with England are differences with an agreement to differ," and that this is and has been Wilson's policy.

Reventlow declares that the propose "The Canadians and the troops and Great Britain expect to unmand the world with their will and that such the world with their will and that such an organization would be tantamount and organization would be tantamount and organization would be tantamount.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets—the substitute for calomel—are a mild but sure laxative, and their effect on the liver is almost instantaneous. These pleasant little tablets do the good that calomel does, but have no bad after effects. They don't injure the teeth like strong liquids or calomel. They take hold of the trouble and quickly correct it. Why cure the liver at the expense of the teeth? Calomel, sometimes plays havoc with the gums. So do strong liquids. It is best not to take calomel. Let Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets take its place. Most headaches, "dullness" and that lazy feeling come from constipation and a disordered fiver. # INTERNAL BLAST SANK KARLSRUHE, GERMAN RAIDER

Diary of Capt. Aust Tells How Vessel Was Cut in Two by Explosion.

By Leased Wire From the New York Bureau of the Post-Disputch. NEW YORK, Nov. 2.—The German cruiser Karlsruhe was not destroyed by the British, but was blown to pieces by an internal explosion on the evening of Nov. 4, 1914, according to the diary of Capt. Lieut. Aust, one of the survivors. Those of the crew who were saved were taken on board the Rio Negro, a prize the cruiser had captured, and reached a Norwegian port, Nov. 29. This diary, which was to dispel the mystery surrounding the German raid-er, has recently been published at Karisruhe. After giving a detailed description of the activities of the Karlsruhe in the early days of the war, Capt. Aust. who was Adjutant of Capt. Erich Kohler, the cruiser's commander, who went down with his ship, writes:

"On Nov. 4 were in 10 degrees 7 minutes north and 55 degrees 25 minutes west off the northeast coast of South America—the commandant was on the bridge, together with First Liout. Baron von Althaus, the officer on watch, and the personnel of the steering and signal detachments. It was the hour of the brief tropical twilight. The members of the crew had just finished their supper, and, as was the custom every evening, had assembled forward to listen to the ship's band, which had taken up its position under the bridge. The officer and petty officers were still sitting at their supper in their messrooms aft where the various watches and stewards, cabin boys and cooks were also gathered. At a short distance the cruiser was followed by the steamers Indrani and Rio Negro.

Thought It Was a Torpede,
"The First Officer had just risen from the supper table and some of the officers were on the point of leaving the hot after part of the ship for the cooler atmosphere of the bridge when a heavy shock, followed by a muffled rackling and grinding, shook the vessel. Lie electric lights went out. The ship imediately heeled over sharply to her ort side. Some one in the officer's mess room cried; 'Struck by a torpedo!' This thought was taken up mechanically by all the others. We rushed to our posts

"Even before I had reached the after part of the ship's superstructure, which was my emergency post as second ar-tillery officer, I heard the cry: 'Close the bulkheads!' and the customary five ort strokes of the ship's bell. Right n front of our bow I saw the floating hull of a ship, which sank in a few din-ues. I thought it must be a strange vessel with which we had been in col-ision, although this seemed unexplain ably to me. In fact it was the forward half of our own ship. A terrific explo-sion had blown his majesty's ship

Karlsruhe into two pieces.
"The place where the explosion occurred and its immediate neighborhood, the part of the ship extending from the now to the forward stock and including the Captain's bridge and the fore-mast, must have been blown to atoms. No one had seen even a piece of it. The forward half of the ship went down with the greater part of the crew, in minutes. Only a few scattering in ividuals, some of whom had been thrown far from the ship, could be picked up from the after half of the vessel and by the boats. They were all after part of the ship, where all the bulkheads had been closed at once, re-mained affont for about twenty minutes I' this circumstance, which is brilliant evidence of the worth of our ship's material and of German construction work we survivors principally owe our salva-

"Pillar of Fire, 100 Yards High." "The two steamers accompanying us at once realized the full import of the catastrophe, which had made itself known to them through a pillar of fire about 100 yards high, and they hastened at full steam to the vicinity of the sinking cruiser and put out all their boats. Our own boats were also got into action at once, and in company with the steamers' boats, scoured the scene of the disaster in search of survivors. After the first officer, together with the engineer on watch, had gone below and made sure that there was not a living man there, the last boat, carrying the officers, pushed off. We had hardly reached a distance of 100 yards when the stern of our ship rose sharply out of the water so that her rudder and screw were plainly visible. Then from the boats that were still looking for survivors rang out three cheers for the remains of his majesty's ship Karls-ruhe, so swiftly diving into the depths, and for our comrades.

"After a brief discussion we decided to sink the Indrani after having stocked up well with coal out of her bunkers for our long trip. Then we steered north in the Rio Negro."

DOCTOR RUNS MAN DOWN

Fred Weber, 36 years old, of 1863 Me nard street, was knocked down by an automobile at Seventh street and Geyer avenue yesterda; afternoon. The driver of the auto tried to place Weber in the car, but was unable to do so on account of the smallness of the vehicle, so he carried him into a house and de-parted. Doctors found that Weber was suffering from a fractured skull and concussion of the brain.

Later Dr. B. E. Stockwell, house physician at the Laclede Hotel, drove to Central Police Station and reported that it was his car that hit Weber. He was released on bond.

"Out of Politics," He Says; De-nies Discussing Arbitration Proposal With Warren.

NOTE "MEANT NOTHING"

Lodge's View of Limitaria "Strict Accountability" Message Ac-cepts President's Dental.

WASHINGTON, Nov. I.—Former Secretary of War Garrison, here in connection with a case before the Supreme Court, was asked to might about the story told by George C. Warren, Republican candidate for elector in New Jersey, that he was told by a member of President Wilson's Cabinet that the proposal to arbitrate the loss of life on the Lusitania was to be subodied in a note to Ambassador Gerard at Berlin. He said:

"I do not know the Mr. Warren re-ferred to in the statement published this morning. The only Mr. Warren I know in Jersey City is a lawyer. When I know him, he was a Police Judge and a fine young fellow. I have never had any conversation with him on this sub-that bets had been made at 10 to 7 on Hughes.

The real betting was at odds ranging from 10 to 9 to 10 to 8 on the Republican-candidate. At these figures fully $60,000 was bet, several Stock Exchange houses figuring on both sides of the wagering. One of these made two bets of $10,000 each, taking the Wilson end at the odds of 8 to 10.

There was more Hughes money in sight than for several days, but this came almost entirely from Stock Exchange houses. The fact that betting odds out of town are much more favorable to the chances of President Wilson than are those quoted in the financial section led to conviction in some quartes that an organized effort is being made among certain Wall street litturests to influence public sentiment in favor of Hughes.

The fact that there was no bone file betting at odds of 10 to 7 on Hughes was made clear by the action of one of the biggest commissioners on the curb. At the close of the day he was offering a large sum at 7½ to 10 on the Democratic candidate, without take

I fall back in surprise!

What in the name of God has happened? The hand of the gauge has gone crazy and swings continuously round and round.

Now it begins to get disagreeable. The gyroscope sauge is as trustworthy as anything in the world, and when it seems impossible at the depth of 50 meters in Chesapeake Bay the earth can revolve around as if we were 'n its center, then there is only one conclusion possible, although a disagreeable one. A new command to rise! The pumps began to hum again, but as empty as before. There is no use at all.

After several attempts Engineer Klees is able to get the pumps working. With a deep, howling roar they begin to force the water out of the tanks. As if bewitched, we see the hands of the manometers begin to stir. Hurrah, we are loose again. We are rising. The hand goes up to 9 meters. # BUG IS UNDER THE POLICE BOARD CHIP

He Criticises Major for Changing Commissioners "When They Were Doing Their Duty."

HE MAKES FOUR SPEECHES

Talks Twice in City, Twice in County-Hoarse and Tired From Campaign.

Former Judge Henry Lamm, Republican candidate for Governor, hoarse and tired from his hard campaign. spoke at four meetings in the city and county last night. His addresses were delivered at Fountain Hall, Broadway and Chippewa street; the Park Hotel, University City; at 7320 Manchester avenue and at Linn's Grove, 6220 North Broadway.

Judge Lamm arrived at the North Broadway meeting at about 11 o'clock. His speech was an attack on Gardner, his Democratic opponent, for the in-dorsement of the administration of Gov. Major. He dwelt upon the phrase "wise, efficient and capable" as contained in the plank of the Democratic platform, and asked his hearers what they thought of the Major administra

"Was it wise efficient and capable for Major to come to St. Louis and dis-rupt the Board of Police Commissioners when that board was doing its duty and ecause it was doing its duty, and put in their places men whom you are still wondering what they will do? "I have heard rumors, but I make no

However, there are reasons for all things and I believe there is a bug under the chip somewhere; just watch that chip. I ask you, was it wise to put the St. Louis and Kansas City police forces into nasty political schemes?

Recalls Old Conditions.
"Do we want to revert to the old days in St. Louis when a Republican vote meant a cracked skull? Government which fosters such conditions is neither wise, efficient nor capable."

As Judge Lamm talked he read from a copy of the Democratic State plat-form, which he said he had read hundreds of times in the last few weeks with the greatest possible pleasure and which, he said, he expected to read a great many more times with the same degree of pleasure. He said Gardner made a special trip from California to be present and "hover over" the drafting of the platform he was to run on and that if the objectionable plank indorsing the Major administration is not his sentiment it should not have been included.

"I stand squarely on my platform," the candidate said. "Much of it I wrote, all of it I saw and all of it I approved and approve now. But Col. Gardner doesn't want to stand on his platform. Instead he has recently de-vised a new one, but, unfortunately, this one has not been filed with the Secretary of State. It's the 'plug all oles' platform.

"What holes does Gardner see?" he asked. "He hasn't told us of the holes that are visible to his maked eye, yet he tacitly admits they are there when he says he will plug 'em. I have been telling the people all over the State of the holes in the present administration, and when I am elected I shall make the proper plugs to fit them.

Question of State Funds.

Judge Lamm said the Democratic party all over the State is disinclined to accept the Gardner platform. He said the assertion by State officials that there is money in the treasury is true, but nevertheless ridiculous. The State cannot touch a penny of that money for the payment of its debts to State institutions, he said, because all of it is money held for defraying expenses of pecial appropriations.

He read a letter he said was written to a citizen by State Treasurer Deal in reply to a complaint that a claim against the State for witness fees had not been paid the complainant. He said the letter proved how hard the State officials are trying to hoodwink am at loss to know why the claim you hold has not been paid, as there is $4,000,000 in the treasury, without a single warrant outstanding," he read. "That's true," the speaker commented, "It would be a felony to issue war-rants without the money to pay them and the treasurer knows that." "There has never been a minute during my term as treasurer that there has not been money to pay all warrants is-sued. Your claim will doubtles be paid when you present a warrant," Lamm continued, reading from the let-"Of course the money will be paid the citizen when he presents his warrant," Judge Lamm said, "but the man just now is interested in getting the warrant. The treasurer doesn't say when he will get it, but he knows that it will not be issued so long as the treasury

Upon the wall of our Advertising Office has hung for many years a very forceful notice to the managers and buyers of this/store, signed by our President, Mr. Dan C. Nugent, stating that they must observe the rule of the house, "Always the Truth, and nothing but the Truth, in all advertisements."

We quote from a pamphlet issued by our Truthful Advertising

"We will pay $1.00 cash to any employe who will bring to the attention of our Truthful Advertising Bureau, any of our advertisements containing any statement that is UNTRUE, DE-CEPTIVE or MISLEADING." In this manner we invite our thousand employes, who are ever on the alert and who know the inside workings of the establishment, to be a part of the store's Vigilance Committee. We will go further and offer this same prize to any patron of our store or to any reader of our advertisements.

We heartily approve of any move to bring the standard of advertising to its proper level. We are proud of our record along these lines during our forty-three years in business in St. Louis, and proud to be known as The Reliable Dry Goods Store.

onfidence Inspired by His Reception in Those States, He Declares.

BATAVIA, N. Y., Nov. 2.-Charles E. Hughes declared today before an audience here that he was entirely confident of the result in both Ohio and In

"I have returned from a trip through Ohio and Indiana," he said, "with a profound sense of gratification and enire confidence with respect to the result in both states.

"In both Ohio and Indiana, it is not exaggerating to say, I had receptions which perhaps exceeded those accorded to any other presidential candidate. That was, of course, as I said last night, not a tribute to me personally, but it was indication of the deep interest the people are taking in the essential conditions of their prosperity and their satisfaction that there is a great reunited Republican party ready for service at this critical time.

"So far as promises go, no one can exceed the promises of our opponents but we measure what they say by what they have done."

Hughes assailed the Democratic party or failure to reduce the high cost of ving, "as promised four years ago. ind for extravagance.

"They tell us now," he that they are going to deal with conomic problems that confront us at this time in a satisfactory manner, but if we endeavor to ascertain by what principle they are to be guided, we look in vain. I propose to tell you by what principle: we shall be guided."

Hughes then reiterated the policies hich he intends to follow if elected. Hughes made five speeches in Indiana resterday in winding up his campaign n the Middle West. The last was to crowd which filled the Wigwam at erre Haute, and followed a long parafe which the candidate reviewed. Hughes devoted much of his speeches yesterday to the tariff issue, declaring that the Underwood bill, if allowed to remain in effect after the war, would produce souphouses and bread lines. He discussed the Adamson bill at length in his night address, declaring that while he understood union labor had been told officially to vote for Wilson, he knew obody could direct or contro! the labo vote, and that it would be cast accordng to its sober judgment.

TIME FOR UNCLE SAM TO OUIT LIQUOR TRADE, LANDRITH SAYS

Prohibitionist Declares License Law Was Made Only to Defray Civil War Expense.

ALTOONA, Pa., Nov. 2.-Liquidation of the Civil War debt, the only excuse ver given for the Federal Governmen ssuing liquor licenses long since, has been accomplished and now the United States should go out of the drink business, Ira Landrith, the Prohibition vice presidential nominee, told a crowd here today. "You Northerners passed this liquor bill," he said. "You did it in 1862. We Southerners weren't in Con-gress then. We can prove an alibi. "President Lincoln agreed to the bill's passage only with the understanding that it would be repealed when the war was over.

Her Portrayal of Cigarette Girl Makes Logical the Opera's Ending. By RICHARD L. STOKES.
Inearly ideal a performance of Bizet's "Carmen" as one is likely to see was presented last night at the Coliseum by the Ellis Grand Opera Company, a troupe made up of the Chicago Grand Opera Company's ensemble of chorus and orchestra, with the addition of stars from that company and from the Metropolitan Opera House, First stood Geraldine Farrar's portrayal of the title character, which was no less than a phenomenon of genius, but close to her and worthy of her were Lucien Muratore's Don Jose and Clar-ence Whitehill's superb Escamillo. The ninor roles were in unusually competent hands: the chorus of 60 not only could sing, but took an animated part in the action; the orchestra of 60 was excellent, and it was conducted by one of the most distinguished of operatic directors, Cleofonte Campanini of the Chicago Opera Co.

Collseum Changes.
The Collseum, after having been abanoned for five years as an opera hous was considerably rearranged for the performance. The south end was walled off across its entire width by a stage structure built especially for this engagement; the front half of the arena loor remained level, but the rear half was elevated in a slope rising to a max-mum height of three feet at the back. The number of seats under the new arrangement was stated to be 8000; on this basis at least 4000 persons were in the audience. There were considerable areas of vacant seats in the rear of the arena; the first balcony was perhaps two-thirds filled, and the second bal-cony probably one-third.

When Geraldine Farrar was 12 years old and lived in Melrose, Mass., she sat in the balcony at Mechanics' Hall in Boston and saw Calve play Carmen. The young girl vowed that some day she would create that role at the Metropolitan. Through one of the most amazing romances in grand opera her dream came true, and her depiction of the character has been hailed as the most inspired since that of the bewitching Frenchwoman.

Farrar's Carmen. It is true that Farrar's Carmen was thorough termagant, with the ferocity and heartlessness of a tigress, and that she changed from lover to lover with a complete absence of compunction. In the scene of the fight in the first actshe was a fury when dragged out of the tobacco factory, with all her clothes torn off save a petticoat and a waist, with her hair on end and with red scratches of fingernails on her arms. She brandished a muscular arm like that of a pugilist, leaped upon the rival cigarette girl, ripped off her waist and finally aimed at her a vicious kick. Yet this ferocity, this promiscuous faithlessness, this vulgarity were always and throughout ennobled by a certain spirituality—the spirituality of dauntlessness of soul and of flery, im-perious force of will. This Carmen was never weak and never afraid One felt that, with favoring circumstances, the obscure cigarette maker could have ruled a kingdom with the iron will of an Elizabeth. To such a character amorous blandishments may be useful, but not indispensable. The end may be aided by such means, but it is essen tially gained by sheer strength of character. Therefore, Farrar's Carmen, though revealing touches of coarseness, was never sensual. Where Calve was an irresistible temptress of the flesh, Farrar was a conqueror by force of Battle of Will With Don Jose. Therefore, her woolng of Don Jose was not so much that of a woman eeking with her charms to seduce a soldier from his oath, as it was a battle of two wills. The weaker suc-cumbed, and it was not Carmen's. Inevitably, after the young Brigadier had been stripped of honor and faith. Carmen turned from him, not with the fickleness of a voluptuary, but with the contempt of the victor for the vanquished. As he had been proved a weakling, he simply existed no longer so far as she was concerned. In Escamillo, on the other hand, she recognized a will as strong as her own, the more fascinating in that it was exerted smilingly. The toreador had a sense of humor, in which respect Don Jose was completely deficient. The builfighter was Carmen's pre-ordained mate, and she went to him as goes the steel to the magnet.

This conception of Carmen as a creature of will, rather than passion, made logical the ending of the opera. It has often seemed unreasonable that Carmen should wait to meet Don Jose alone after being warned that he would murder her; that she took this risk out of mere bravado or cruelty, as some actresses have represented it, has never been convincing. Farrar's Carmen was neither boastful nor cruel in giving this last interview to her discarded favorite; she was superbly confident of her su-perior strength of personality and willing, with a certain magnanimity and arge carelessness, to hear what he had to say. That he would go insane with jealousy and rage was an accident unforeseen; she maintained her ascendency of will with regal disdain until the nadman snatched out his dagger; then and only then came the sudden flash of fear in her eyes as she realized what the fates were meting out to her; but this was only momentary, and she met her doom with the fortitude of a queen who is well aware that small things

Memorable as was Farrar's acting version of Carmen, her singing was not quite on a level with it. Many missed, especially in her high register, that beauty of tone which contributed a large part to the prima donna's triumph in "Madame Butterfly." It was recalled

Whitehill Perfectly Cast.

Whitehill, both in figure and voice, was perfectly cast as Escamillo. His singing of the famous strophes in which the toreador describes the glories of the builfight was an unforgettable bit of dramatic vocalism; and it is safe to say that part of the admiration with which Carmen eyed him was not the make-believe of the stage, but was Miss Farrar's personal tribute to her fellow player's art.

It was gratifying that two of the best roles in opera were played so consummately by singers of American birth—Miss Farrar and Whitehill; in addition the part of Micaela was taken by a third American, Miss Helen Stanley. She pleased the audience with her pure and true soprano voice, rather than ditions of the role. When will opera singers discover that Micaela is not a German Gretchen of the Marguerite type, but a Spanish girl of hot Spanish blood, and that her one great aria in the third act is not merely a prayer for diving protection in the converge for divine protection in the smuggler's camp, but the outpouring of a girl's hatred and jealousy of the woman who has robbed her of her lover?

Rita Fornia and Alma Peterson as Mercedes and Frasquita made rather more than usual of their small parts, as did Constantin Nicolay and Octave Dua as the smuggler chieftans. Leon Rothier was highly praised for his dignified and soldierly Zuniga, and Leon Rothier acceptably took the part of Morales. Albertina Rasch, a dancer of eccentric appearance, led a ballet of 16. She is said to have been premiere danseuse at the Royal Vienna Opera House; the Royal Vienna Opera House s not here to deny it.

The audience was generous with applause, and there were many curtain calls, in which Campanini justly shared. In the intermissions after the first and second acts, the popular diversion was to search the boxes with opera glasses for a glimpse of Lina Cavalieri, Muratore's wife, famous all over the world as a beauty. Until the end of the third act she sat in a sear in the front row of the arena, where few could see her, going behind the scenes before and ifter the acts after the house had been darkened. But finally she sat for a few minutes in the back of the first box on the left and was a target for all the classes in the auditorium.

Tonight, at its second and final performance, the company will present "Il Trovatore," which, with "Carmen" and 'Faust," comprises the trio of the most popular of all operas. Among those in the cast will be Louise Homer, Mario Rappold, Leon Rothier, Giovanni Polese and Morgan Kingston.

President Thompson Issues Call After Demand of Mayor in Open Letter.

IT IS SET FOR TODAY

Kiel Objects to Assignments of Patrolmen and Hints at Democratic Plot.

A special meeting of the Police Board was called for this afternoon by President Thompson on the demand contained in a letter which Mayor Kiel left at Thompson's home last night, and which the Mayor made public.

In his letter the Mayor virtually asked whether the police are to be used as a Demcratic party auxiliary in next Tuesday's election and whether policemer are now trying to intimidate negro voters to keep them from the polls. After Thompson issued the call for a special meeting, telephone inquiry developed that Commissioners Sheahar and Ostertag were not at their places of business and that Commissioner Arendes was out of the city. It was then said that if a meeting could not be held this afternoon the matters contained in the Mayor's letter would be taken up at the regular meeting tomorrow afternoon. The Mayor is the fifth member of the board.

Objects to Police Plan.
In his letter to Thompson, the Mayor mentions reports taht the Police Board plans to abandon the pracday to parts of the city where they are not acquainted, to do duty at the polls This practice has prevailed at severa elections, and it has tended to keep the patrolmen out of precinct politics, and to make it easier for them to perforn their duty at the polls than it would be if the policeman regularly on the beat were working among his acquaint

The Mayor also says he has been cred ibly informed that the police canvass made at the Election Board's request to investigate registration, "is being re-stricted to those sections of the city which are mostly inhabited by colored people. I am further advised," he writes, "that the canvass has been start ed so late that there is little probability that it will be extended to other sec tions of the city where irregularitie are suspected. ### LETTERS FROM THE PEOPLE

The Proposed Zoo Tax.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch. Your cartoon in Friday evening's paper reminls one of the coming election in which St. Louisans are to vote upon, among other things a 1-5th mill

How many people really know that this would mean an income, according to the present tax as-sessment, of about $140,000 for the next year and 'ncreasing annually making an aggregate amount of $840,000 to $1,000,000 for a short period of only

t or seven years. With public funds so often misappropriated and taxes already above normal it certainly seems an anjust burden upon the people of St. Louis that such an income should continue indefinitely, and

Why not the city appropriate a sum sufficiently their ability to properly apply the funis, then it necessar; later on vote a smaller tax—a sum sufficient for proper maintenance. MON. KEY.

Candidates for the Bench. To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

As a lawyer, wishing for nothing in connection with the choice of Judges except the election of the best men for the office. I wish to commend th action of the members of the bar of this city with respect to the candidates for office.

Mr. Davis Biggs is commended by his own record at the bar and the career of his father, Hon. Wil liam H. Biggs, who sat upon the bench of the St. Louis Court of Appeals for many years. The men named for the Circuit Court Messrs. Leo S. ### The School Bond Issue.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

I am against the proposed bond issue for the St. Louis schools. In 1907, the year of the panis, when $6000 persons were unable to pay their taxes, the School Board was drawing 40 cents out of chool Board was drawing 46 cents out of tax dollar for school purposes. Now they rawing 50 cents out of every dollar. The of St. Louis cannot pay the increased taxes, the issue pass, and pay their own expenses. Let the schools sconomise until they are o make the proposed increase out of gheir ir income.

THOMAS DEVINE, VOTERS' GUIDE ON JUDGES.

How strongly Republican the St. Louis bar is in sentiment was shown by its referendum on judicial candidates in July, just prior to the primaries. In that referendum the bar cast more than 400 Republican ballots and 265 Democratic ballots, a total slightly exceeding 665.

In the referendum completed last week on the nerits of the Democratic and Republican judicial tickets, the number of ballots cast showed a mall decrease, the total being 639. The result rereals a conscientious effort on the part of a large number of the bar members to arrive at conclusions of genuine helpfulness to the voters and to judge nominees according to their professional merits and capacity and not according to their political convictions. Those who follow the estimates of the bar will vote as follows:

For Division No. 1, Supreme Court, A. M. Woodson, Democrat, and not James M. Johnson, Republican.

For Division No. 2, Supreme Court, either

Edward Highes, Republican, or Fred L. Wil-For the St. Louis Court of Appeals, Davis Biggs, Democrat, and not William Dee Becker, Republican.

For the Court of Criminal Correction, Chauncer J. Krueger, Republican, and not Ben F. Democrat, the Circuit Court, Leo S. Rassieur and Wilson A. Taylor, Republicans, and Hickman P. Rodgera, Manton Davis, Franklin Miller, Joseph S. McIntyre and Walter N. Davis,

The public will be greatly aided on one of the nost difficult subjects of decision if the bar continues to be guided by such principles in making its recommendations and applies them with such obviously excellent results.

It is a service for which voters can express their appreciation in eloquent and unmistakable fashion. This is by showing at the polls that the recommendations have weight.

THE CATACLYSM IN VIRGINIA.

Henceforward the old Virginia gentleman, by gad suh! will omit the by gad suh and other emphasis of enthusiastic self-satisfaction, the F. F. I's. will have grapejuice in their julep cups, Colonels will lose the titles and the strawberries which identified them to the respectful barkeeper, oratory will considerably decline, "honah" will be less sensitive, sentiment will slump, and even song be less mellow-"Carry Me Back to Ole Virgin-yuh" will nowhere tug at the heartstrings of her noble sons with the full emotions of the romantic past before the lid went on.

Thomas Jefferson, foremost apostle of peri liberty and foremost son of Virginia-will they hang their beads at the mention of his name? Will they quote him any more, or read the Declaration of Independence on the Fourth of July? Virginia, mistress of slaves, bowing her head to the tyranny of sumptuarists, and her proud scions procuring their toddies from the bootlegs of Old the world coming to!

HARD TICKET SCRATCHING.

The antiqueted ballot prepared for voters under the laws of Missouri makes it difficult for voters o scratch, particularly presidential candidates. If a Republican wants to vote for Wilson on the Republican ticket he must scratch the names of the 18 Republican electors and write in the names of the 18 Democratic electors-a long, difficult task. So with scratchers of other parties. The names of the rejected candidates must be scratched In my letter on thorough preparedness, printed and the names of accepted candidates must be ticket and the presidential candidate of another party, but is unable or unwilling to scratch and write in 18 names, he can refuse to vote for any presidential candidate by scratching the names of in some way of what the people are having the electors on his ticket. Thus he will deprive the candidate of his party of a vote, but will not Of course, all those who favor war will hall the cast a vote for his choice. The only other alterare opposed to it will be willing to undergo the didate he wants and scratch state and local candidates to suit himself.

We hope in the near future Missouri will have a modern blanket ballot on which the selections of the voter may be indicated by crosses.

EUROPE'S VIEWPOINT

European newspapers seem to regard the coming elections in the United States as of direct importance in the settlement of the present difficulties. Thus the Munich Post Zeitung says with regard to it:

do we know from experience; what Hughes may do we do not know and cannot guess. The Frankfurter Zeitung thus characterizes the

Neither of the two candidates is friendly: yet there is a degree in unfriendliness. . . There are several vital reasons, why we are interested: First the shipment of American ammunition, then the attitude to be assumed as to the submarine warfare, and the persona by Americans taking passage on enemy ships: the inhibition of wholesale immigra-tion into America after the war, when Europe will need every whole hand; the formation of an American merchant marine; prohibitive an American merchant marine; prohibitive duties against German manufactures; not to mention the possibility of the United States having a hand in the formulating of peace terms in which case we shall want a friend in court. Besides we have pending a number of damage cases and claims which require a friendly hand. * * Indeed we are deeply interested * * We should have liked a man like Bryan, and should have disliked a man like Bryan, and should have disliked a man like Roosevelt. * Between the two actual candidates—the historian and the juthere is little choice, except the element of rtainty in the one case. * * * Weser Zeitung (Bremen) thinks that there will be little importance in "the man; the only nportance lies in the party; the present incuments have shown which way they want the cales to turn. What will be the attitude of the arty that wants to get into power again?

The Koelner Volkszeltung dismisses the question with the words: "The American people have already said what they think, and done what they intend doing. The actual President is only a more or less apt mouthplece for the public."

the "power behind the throne, if Hughes is

The Paris Temps sums up the questions in the words: "The American nation will have the decision, not the President; and what they think we already know full well."

"WHO'S LOONEY NOW?"

A heckler in Columbus, Ind., asked Mr. Hugher whether he favored an embargo on munitions or the passage of resolution by Congress warning Americans off merchant ships flying the flags of belligerent nations, Mr. Hughes answered:

every right, including the right of travel and the right of shipments. It is a very importaat right that we have as a neutral nation when the great war is raging, we should vindicate neutral rights and maintain the integrity of international law.

This is precisely what President Wilson did. It is this course on the part of Mr. Wilson that gained for him the hostility of the pro-German propogandist, just as his refusal to violate neu trality and international law for the allies gained for him the hostility of the anglomaniacs.

In the East where pro-ally sentiment is strong Mr. Hughes' utterances were at variance with his speeches in the West. In Philadelphia he said he wouldn't permit intrigues in behalf of a foreign nation. In New York his remarks about the hyphen were much more forcible than in the West.

Whenever Mr. Hughes is forced to speak out as in Columbus he indorses Mr. Wilson's record. He cannot help it because Mr. Wilson has done right. In view of Mr. Hughes' utterances in Columbus and the East we may ask our German-American friends who, with Roosevelt, Morgan, Root and Bacon are supporting Mr. Hughes, "Who's looney

Peace is not to arrive in time to enable the Kaiser in 1916 to renew his ante-war Christmas gift of a boar's head to the British King.

CUTTING OUT ONE ELECTION.

Reason enough for adopting the new election system proposed for St. Louis is found in the fact that it will enable the same work to be done in one visit to the polls now requiring two visits. The saving to the city, estimated at $70,000, is of weight, though the saving in the time and at tention of voters is much more imporant.

However, the broadening of the restrictions of partisan voting is the great merit of the system The nonpartisan plan is in effect in Cleveland and Prof. A. R. Hatton of Western Reserve University in that city has testified in speeches before St Louisans to its satisfactory workings. It cuts out the spoilsmen, hampers the machine and lessens the incentive to vote as mere Republicans or Democrats on our neighborhood affairs.

The preferential ballot is simply a device en abling the voter to combine the functions of primary day and election day without any loss of his present suffrage powers; in fact in some senses with an enlargement of them. Proportional representation in legislative bodies is by no means a new idea in American politics. It has been in use Black Joe's descendants—hang up the fiddle and for a generation in the choice of Illinois legisthe bow! Shades of the Old Dominion, what is lators. However, the plan operative there giving each citizen in a senatorial district three votes to be cast separately or "plunked" for House members is not without some shortcomings.

Proportional representation is conceded to be an excellent arinciple. The problem is to give it effect through a workable device. The plan proposed for St. Louis is a distinct improvement over any heretofore employed.

American taxation increases, but when we look scross the sea and contemplate what taxation is to mean over there, our yoke seems easy and our burden light.

MR. HUGHES' BACKING.

publican and Democratic campaign funds gives a striking classification of the backing of Mr Hughes and Mr. Wilson. The Democratic campaign fund, much smaller than the Republican campaign fund, is made up of many modest contributions, with one exception-Cleveland Dodge, the President's classmate and lifelong friend, gave a large sum. The Republican campaign fund is composed o larger contributions for about one-half as many contributors. In the list of contributors are the leading fin nciers and trust magnates of the country. The National City Bank of New York, which handles the banking and loan business of the allies for J. P. Morgan, is well represented. Among the contributors are J. P. Morgan, John D. Rockefeller Jr., Clarence H. Mackey, Harry Payne Whitney, George F. Baker Jr., George F. Baker, T. Coleman Du Pont, Cornelius Vanderbilt, J. Ogden Armour, C. N. Bliss Jr., Robert Bacon, Robert Goelet, Vincent Astor, H. P. Davison, Charles P. Taft, Ogden Mills, William Nelson Cromwell and others. The big money behind the railroads, the trusts and the Wall street banks is in Mr. Hughes' fund. It is there for a purpose. The men who are putting up want the Wilson progressive program repealed and a return to Wall street control of finances. They want high protection. They want the army and navy to follow investments They want us to use the big stick in Europe and the army in Mexico.

"WORKING HAVOO."

A page advertisement signed by the Republicar National Publicity Committee undertakes to in form President Wilson that "your tariff" has driven American industries out of business, and this advertisement and the Republican cartoons picture the present prosperity as solely due to the activity of munition plants.

What about the plant of Ely & Walker, one of St. Louis' big wholesale dry goods companies? Sales of this concern during 1916 will be between $19,000,000 and $20,000,000, the largest business ever done by one St. Louis house. It will be an business. The firm is proposing a dividend of $1,500,000 new common stock, amounting to 100 per cent stock dividend to the present holders of the common stock.

Here is a sample of the "bayoc" worked by the Wilson administration in industries that have a more or less apt mouthplece for the public."

The Paris Pigaro thinks that "Hughes means St. Louis would like to see much more of that the Paris Pigaro thinks that "Hughes means are being of have would like to see much more of that

CHAPTER LXXXV.

OV. 2 (continued).—I looked my husband squarely in the eye. "I have been helping Patty Kane settle her furniture in her new rooms,"

"But I told you I didn't want you to go!" Ned exclaimed with a frown. "Furthermore, it's just as I thought. There are two sides to that story. I ran into Kane downtown today and he told m that his wife had left him flat. Asked me to ask you to use your influence with her. Said she was filled up with a lot of this new talk about the economic endence of women.'

That's when Patty Kane decided that she herself must learn how to support her children. And you want me to advise her to sacrifice all she has won in order to go back to that man, whose sentints have not changed one iota!"

"I don't want you to urge her to do anything," Ned declared.

B RUSHING the hair has its advo-cates and its opponents. After a long motor journey it is almost absolutely necessary, unless on er. Some urge that brushing the hair only distributes the oil and makes the dust and grime stick that much closer. It is true the hundred strokes each night belong to grandmother's days, but modified strokes are still in order.

If you do brush your hair, it should be done by degrees. Part the hair in the center, from the forehead to the base of the neck, separate it into small strands and brush each strand thoroughly from the roots to the en with long, straight strokes. Do not use the bristles flat on the head. This is irritating to the scalp, especially on a warm day. The pores of the scalp open just as those of the face are, and the sharp bristles may inflame them if allowed to touch the scalp. In that case, the new and tender hair is broken or bruised. Turn the brush sideways, and the bristles will stroke the hair only, and not tho

If your hair is naturally oily and the brushing seems to aggravate this condition, orris powder used afterward will make the hair as fluffy as when shampooed. It is inadvisable to use talcum, as so many do, to make the hair fluffy. The talcom sticks and clings to the scalp, besides remaining in the strands of the hair and giving gravish cast to the hair. Talcum cleans the hair temporarily, but its ill effects overbalance any good effects. Its continued use will make the hair break.

Commeal also is used to clean the hair and to make it fluffy. While much e-sier to remove than talcum, it is still ifficult to do so. For those who cannot obtain a shampooer often, or may be entirely out of reach of such,

A baby is perfectly happy in a crib of this kind, for it can be drawn to any part of the house, being narrow enough to go through the doors easily. The change from room to room will keep the baby more contented. If the crib is made right it will be very pretty and cost very little.

BANKERS, B. M. L., TO ASSIST DRYS

etters Declare Statewide Prohibition Would Not Injure

Business. The Ministerial Alliance of St. Louis and the S. Louis Evangelical Alliance, and the S. Louis Evangencal Alliance, in their campaign for the adoption of the proposed state-wide prohibition amendment, have addressed communications t the bankers of St. Louis, protesting against the letter recently signed by th bankers opposing prohi-bition, and to the Business Men's League, urging that it should not join in the opposition to prohibition.

The communications consider the subject from a business as well as from a moral standpoint. They take issue with the statement of the busi-ness interests of the city that from a business standpoint prohibition would damage St. Louis.

would damage St. Louis.

The following is the letter sent to the bankers by the Minister's Alliance:
"We, the members of the Ministerial Alliance of St. Louis, have received with amazement and surprise your letter dated Friday, Oct. 20, 1916, in which you oppose the proposed amendment to the Constitution of Missouri prohibiting the sale and manufacture of intoxicating liquors in Missouri.

"The Ministerial Alliance, compos of the ministers of the gospel of more than 250 churches of the city and representing the moral force and law-abiding sentiments of the members of these churches, passed unanimously a resolu-tion at a meeting Monday, Oct. 28, deploring and protesting against the ac-tion you have taken in opposing this amendment and instructed the Legisla-tive Committee to communicate their ntiments to you.
"As you have approached this subect from the economic and nto the moral standpoint, we are constrained to believe that you are not aware of the fact that fully three-fourths of the territory drawing trade from St. Louis is nder laws prohibiting the manufacture and sale of intoxicating liquor.

"And further, we have in our posse sion statements from the Governors of the 18 states herein they have statewide prchibition, as well as from May-ors of cities, Judget of courts, bankers and statesme" of national repute of these states, affirming and declaring that since their states became dry there has been a remarkable increase in pros perity and a great lessening in drunkenness, crime, poverty and political

"We realize that it may be possible the brewers and drams..op keepers have allied and interlocked interests with some of the banking institutions and industries of the city and therefore they seek to mold your sentiments, control your influence and to demand your sig natures to such a document as this that you have mailed to us as a reciprocal relationship for their patronage and i so doing you have aligned yourselves with the liquor interest and against the churches, the teaching of the schools and economic development; of the day The day of enlightenment is too far advanced for men of your intelligence and responsibility to line up behind such ignoble leadership.

"Furthermore, while holding you i esteem as citizens and having the moral welfare of the city at heart and knowing somewhat of the moral sentiment of the city, we cannot believe you represent the great body of your director stockholders and clientele in general. Neither can we believe that you comnend, in your hearts, the liquor busifully informed as the most fruitful burce of crime, vice, lawlessness and olitical corruption in our cities.

"This act of yours was not done corner. It has become a part of the oral history of your State. We do not feel that this act is up to the level of your general relation to the higher in stitutions of our city.

"The stand you have taken is surely against the general trade of St. Louis, and the physical, political and moral welfare of our citizens.

"We believe the time is near at hand when you will not only regret the stand you have taken on this subject, but be asnamed that you have signed this document to be used by the brewers and dramshop keepers on behalf of the liquor business and to defeat the State-wide amendment."

The letter of the Evangelical Alliance to the Executive Committee of the Business Men's League follows:
"The Evangelical Alliance of St. Louis, representing 250 churches, unanimously adopted resolutions at its session this morning, making an appeal to the Business Men's League to refuse to indorse resolutions being proposed by the St. Louis brewers against prohibition. "Since it is true that in more than our-fifths of the trade territory of St.

Louis the liquor traffic has been out-lawed at the ballot box and that the indications now are that Kansas City, our closest business competitor, will cast an overwhelming "dry" vote amo perhaps to a majority of the whole vote cast; that it will be to the busi-ness interests of St. Louis to refrain from passing any anti-prohibition reso

"And since it is a truth admitted or stood as an impassible barrier against all moral progress in our city throw-ing its tentacles out even into the dry territory beyond, breaking every law that can be made as far as possible; that there is a moral obligation resting upon the Business Men's League as the official representative of St. Louis busi-ness life to throw its entire strength ness life to throw its entire strength against such a traffic.

"Big business demands that its employes be sober men an dwomen. It is drawing the lines tighter and tighter against even the moderate use of liquor on account of its damaging effect on employes. Therefore, it would be unreasonable and unjust for this authoritative body to seem to throw its influence in favor of the very institution that it seeks to shut out at the door that it seeks to shut out at the doo of the factory, counting house and othe

One gift was a chest of nearly 200 pieces of silver from the bridegroom's parents. The bride's father gave a $75,000 residence at 5135 Lindell boulevard, the deed to which was on display. He also gave an automobile and Mrs. Busch gave a baby grand piano. Among other gifts were a white bear skin, a Chinese dog, many silver and china dishes, several tables of rare wood and nundreds of silver and gold ornaments. The occasion was as informal as it could be made and after the ceremony the bride joined in the dancing. Her dress was of white satin covered with pearls and was made in St. Louis. Her sister, Mrs. C. # Great Overstock Sale of Suits

when, after they have doubled their output, in anticipation of an enormous November business, which did not materialize, and find their orders cut off to the tune of thousands of Suits, right when they must make a quick turn of all stock on hand—when such conditions come up like a thunderclap from a clear sky—then SOMETHING'S GO. ING TO HAPPEN.

And something did happen last week when our Suit Buyer was in the market, with the result that we secured 650 of the season's best Suits, from three makers of high-class Suits, that they were forced, by the conditions mentioned above, to sacrifice, to evade disaster. We got the pick—200 from one manufacturer—175 from another and 275 from another.

BONDS, NOT QUALIFIED

Senator Was Accepted by Judge Clark in Burglary Case— Amount Is $1500.

A bond for $1500 claned by State Senator Michael Kinney for Edwin Hendrix of 1512 Walnut street, charged with burgiary, was forfelted today in Judge Kimmel's court. The records of the Criminal Courts do not show that Senator Kinney is a qualified bondsman. The Assessor's records show that he pays taxes on personal property valued

The bond was taken Aug. 29 by Judge Clark, who, after a grand jury investigation two years ago of the acceptance of bonds from bondsmen who were not qualified, announced that in the future he would require bondsmen in felony cases to qualify on the individual bond they desired to sign. Such action, if it afterward developed the bondsman had no property, would permit prosecution of the bondsman on a charge of felony. ### NEW YORK POST FOR WILSON

NEW YORK, Nov. 2-The New York Evening Post has declared in favor of President Wilson's re-election. The editorial says: "We agree with Prof. Bliss Perry in what he has lately written: 'Having known Woodrow Wilson for nearly 25 years as a high-minded gentleman of absolute integrity, of stubborn Scotch-Irish courage, and of passionate devo-tion to his country, I resent the willful misrepresentation and malignant disparagement which characterizes, the campaign against him.

In this respect Mr. Hughes has been the President's best campaigner. Mean-while, Mr. Wilson has in his speeches shown by contrast. He has known how to be dignified while forcible. And the to be dignified while forcible. And the increasing emphasis which the whole drift of the campaign has placed upon the President's highest service to the country, his maintenance of peace with honor, has been unmistakable. His relection would be the strongest kind of peace mandate from the people of the United States. It is mainly for this reason that the Evening Post, without abating its recorded criticisms of the President a jot, believes that a victory abating its recorded criticisms of the President a jot, believes that a victory for Mr. Wilson next Tuesday would be for the good of the country."

COLOMBIA PROTESTS AGAINST NEW CANAL ROUTE TREATY

Contends Agreement Between U. S. and Nicaragua Denies Her Sovereignty Over Corn Islands. WASHINGTON, Nov. 2.—Colombia has protested to the United States against the new canal route treaty with Nicaragua on the ground that the granting of a 39-year lease to this Government by Nicaragua of Great Corn and Little Corn islands is a denial of Colombian sovereignty in these islands. Colombia claims that the islands, though recently subject to Nicaraguan administration, are part of her territory under the cession of Nov. 30, 1803, issued by the King of Spain to demarcate the various Spanish provinces in the new world. The islands are not held to be of any especial value, except strategically. They lie about 10 miles off the coast and have about 2000 population. Some time ago Honduras, San Sal-vador, Costa kica and Guatemala protested against the Nicaraguan treaty on the ground that it infringed their rights on Fonseca Bay and San Juan River. The United States has not ac-cepted their protests and the award of the Central American Court, in their favor has been disregarded by Nica-

Speaker Declares President Was Praised 14 Months Ago for Acts Now Condemned.

CASE OF TAFT IS CITED

Former Senator, at Hibernian Hall, Says Nation Is Grateful for Peace It Enjoys.

Charles A. Towne, a former Repul lican Congressman from Minnesota, and later a Democrat, in the course of speech at Hibernian Hall last night, read two editorials from the Globe-Democrat, one of Sept. 2, 1915, praising President Wilson for "firmly, courage-ously and skillfully," upholding the cause of the Government in the settlecause of the Government in the settle-ment of the Lusitania controversy, and the other of Oct. 24, 1916, denouncing him because his course has been one of "wa-vering, faitering and retreat." He de-clared that such misrepresentations and deliberate pettifogsing as the Globe-Democrat is making for partisan pur-poses in this campaign is the reproach to American civilization, a reproach to St. Louis and a shame upon American St. Louis and a shame upon American Journalism. The audience that filled the hall cheered enthusiastically.

There have been few such scenes i political meetings in St. Louis during this campaign. Towne, who represent-ed a Minnesota district in Congress as a Republican, later represented the State in the Senate as a Democrat, and was again returned to Congress from a New York City district, had been reviewing the events of the last 14 months when he made reference to the Globe-Dem

Quotes Taft's Praise of President.
He had been telling the audience how grateful the American people were 14 months ago, when President Wilson averted war with Germany by settling the Lusitania case by diplomacy, how former President Taft then said that the American people owed a debt of gratitude to President Wilson for his firmness, courage and success, and how such newspapers as the Chicago Trib-une, the New York Tribune and the New York Sun, all now bitterly assailing the President for what they call his ack of firmness, had then commended im most highly for his courage and

The misrepresentation and abuse o President Wilson by Republican sam-paign managers and newspapers, Towns asserted, is the result of the desperate situation in which the opposition finds itself. He said that he had traveled from the Atlantic to the Pacific coast, and halfway back again, and that there were not two states west of the Mississippi River that Hughes would carry, and he felt certain that New York, hio, Indiana, Michigan, Wisconsin and ols were all going to cast their electoral votes for Wilson.

While traveling through Wyoming he said that an opened telegram, intend-ed for Senator Borah of Idaho, was de-livered by mistake to him, and that the telegram directed Borah to cancel all other engagements and hasten to Ohio.

"The Republican National Committee is now publishing advertisements in the newspapers throughout the United states, full of misrepresentations," Towne said. They say President Wilson is full of words, and not of deeds, and by deeds they mean timatum to challengers for his triple crown.

Tired of risking his honors for scant or no gain—his title match here having proven a financial failure—Hoppe yesterday announced, through his manager, R. P. Benjamin, that wheever wanted a chance at his titley or the free advertising that goes with it, would hereafter have to make a cash guarantee to the champion, win, lose or draw.

"Ring champions and others," commented Mr. Benjamin, "capitalize their titles. They have to be guaranteed in advance certain sums, or they will not appear.

"Hoppe has now positively cleaned up the billiard world. There is no player living who seems to have the remotest chance to defeat him. He has just whipped the greatest of all his possible opponents, Sutton. Thus, wheever seeks a match with Hoppe now, is doing so solely for the advertising it brings, and not with any hope of success.

The Passing of Owgoost.

THEY'RE preparing the guillotine for what the double chins have left of August Herrmann's neck. The execution date is not yet, but soon, according to the hand writing on the wall.

Is not yet, but soon, according to the hand writing on the wall.

The makeup of the present commission has stood longer than anyone could reasonably expect. In view of the fact that Hermann's presence as chairman gave the National League two votes to one for the American.

The fact that the dommission has gone along all these years without serious complaint arising, to us indicates that the much-mailgned Garry has exercised caution and good judgment in not attempting to use his voting weight against the American League.

Nevertheless it is inevitable that a neutral be chosen for the head of the commission, if only to quiet the suspicion of unfairness. That the third party will be a baseball player as suggested is just a jest.

In the meantime a neutral is just as hard to find in baseball and neutral in Berlin or London.

Cheap at the Price.

THE oft-sold Boston club brought a pretty fair price, $675,000, Browns are reputed to have been bought for a sum variously estimated from $425,000 to $500,000—the lowor figure being an absolute minimum.

Supply Depot Here Forwards Propos-nis to Washington, Where Awards Will Be Made.

Bids for more than 7,000,000 feet of lumber and large quantities of other building materials to be used in building shelters for the troops at the Mexican border were opened today at the army supply depot, Sec-ond and Arsenal streets, by Col. D. S. Stanley, Depot Quartermaster. Bids were received at other army supply depots and all bids will be forwarded to the War Department at Washing-ton where the award will be made. Among the items are 7000 wood sash windows, 7000 sets latches and 14,000 pairs hinges. The lumber con-sists mostly of one-inch boards and sists mostly of one-inch boards and two-by-fours. The entire order will make about 350 car loads.

Col. Stanley said he had no information from the War Department as to the nature of the shelters to be constructed. He presumed, however, that the material would be used in building temporary cottages and mess shacks and in flooring and boarding up tents.

Indiana, Illinois, Iowa and Nebraska, but a triffe better than espected in Kansas, Wisconsin, Tennessee and the South. In spite of some light and chaffy corn, the result of the frost in September, the general quality of the crop is good and it has conditioned quickly with the favorable weather the past six weeks. Quality is reported at $5.7 against a 10-year average of about $5.6. "Stocks of old porn on hand are very light, $3 per cent of the 1915 crop, or $5.000,000 bu against $3.6 per cent and a total of $6.000,000 bu last year. "Wheat seeding is late, the seed bed and early period of growth generally unfavorable, but moisture conditions are now satisfactory. Unless the balance of the fall is unusually favorable, the plant will go into the winter lacking in growth and vigor. Hessian fly is widely reported. The acrease will be materially increased over that harvested this year, and particularly heavy in Kansas and Nebraska." A Liverpool house cabled: "Wheat market not changed notwithstanding unfavorable advices from your side. Corn weak at the opening, but closed strong on account of the difficulty in obtaining supplies. Argentine crop said to be partly destroyed by locusts." New York wired: "Cables here from Argentina say recent rains were insufficient. Corn not germinating properly and wheat a failure. Nawspapers are agitating the prohibition of exports." Buenos Aires wheat was ½c to 2c higher, com ½c to ½c higher. Estimated Argentine shipments this week: 275,000 bu, last week 3,851,000 bu, last year 263,000 bu; corn, this week? Wheat 1,200,000 bu, last week 1,135,-000 bu; flour, 5000 blus; wheat and flour, $40,000 bu; corn, $5,000 bu; corn, this week? $7,500 bu; corn second of the data unchanged.

THE POST-DISPATCH DAILY SHORT STORY

fil SN'T that young Griggs and Miss Deering?" asked the captain, peering down from the bridge at a dark spot silhouetted against the

"Yes, sir," replied the second officer. "It's the speediest shipboard romance I've ever seen in all my 30 years aboard a liner," remarked the captain, smiling. "I understand they never saw or heard of each other until they met at dinner Tuesday. Have you talked much with them, sir? I see they sit next to you a merely cut away, so low was the ship in the water. Then came a lurch, and the waves closed over the great ship.

The next evening the Associated Press sent out, from its St. Louis office, this paragraph:

"Among those lost was H. G. Griggs, junior partner of the Wells & Griggs Steel Co. He leaves a wife and infant son in this city. It is feared Mrs. Griggs vill not recover from the shock."

The Fountain and the Stream By Mrs. F. A. Walker.

played a great white marble fountain. Its spray danced in the sun, which turned its mist to every color of the rainbow. Pink, blue and gold gleamed in its dainty foam. Around the fountain were exquisitely carved figures of animals and birds, all studded with jewels for eyes.

Over it dropped rose bushes who blossoms dropped their snowy petals on the water. In the moss around its basin grew violets. Over all towered the shade of a great oak in which birds of every color lived. And just back of it rose the magnificent palace of the King, from whose windows every night there ligated the strains of the sweetest music and very happy. Did it not live in the garden of the King? Did it not enjoy all that was richest and most beautiful in life?

Just outside of the garden trickled thy stream that started far up among the crags of the mountain. It was not very big and it had a rough road to travel, for its bed was steep and stony and the storms sometimes washed it full of mud and sticks. Then in the winter t. would freeze up hard. Still it sang

And away he dashed down the mountain. Within a few months the King who owned the garden was taken a prisoner in battle. His castle was destroyed, the fountain broken by the cannon of seldiers, whose horses drank from its snewy hasin. The rose bushes were trampled under foot, the trees cut down, the flowers dug up by the cut down, the flowers dug up by the wheels of wagons and when the army left the palace garden was a vast, glosmy wreck.
